

Shakespeare
in Queens Park

9-14 MARCH 2004 • QUEENS PARK • TOOWOOMBA

William Shakespeare's

HAMLET

A tale of political intrigue and unrequited love told beneath the soaring trees of Queens Park

Settle on the grass

Feast on a home-packed picnic or gourmet fare

Enjoy Platform Performances by local schools and community groups

Then ... as dusk falls ... Shakespeare comes to the Park

A country in chaos.

A murdered King.

And a young man faced with the most difficult decision of all - to allow a great wrong to grow out of control, or to stand against it, and put himself and all he loves in the way of harm.

A searing tale that reverberates with the personal and global issues of our modern world.

This most known of Shakespeare's stories will be told beneath the soaring trees of Queen's Park in the first installment of what is to become an annual Festival of Theatre.

Don't miss the opportunity to be able to say,
"I was there at the beginning".

9-13 MARCH 2004 • 7PM • QUEENS PARK

Twilight Performance 5.30pm Sunday 14 March

USQ PERFORMANCE CENTRE 07 4631 1111

UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN QUEENSLAND

