

Talking Queensland

With Ashley Jones

About the Show

Talking Queensland is all about cultural events, the arts and the people who make Queensland great. Your State will profile visiting artists, performers and events throughout regional and rural Queensland. We will talk to the people who are great Queenslanders, and those who are impacting this state.

Talking Queensland is a radio show heard on the Resonate Group of radio stations.

Markets include: Kingaroy, Dalby, Emerald, Roma, Charleville, Longreach, Mt Isa, and Charters Towers. We have inland Queensland covered. The show also goes into Toowoomba on 102.7FM

The show will highlight major events occurring in the broadcast areas, talk with visiting performers, showcase locals and update on the weather forecast and other important information.

Listen in each SATURDAY morning as we talk all things Queensland.

About the Host/Producer

Ashley has been in the media industry for almost 40 years and during that time has worked in television, radio and print. Radio is a deep love of Ashley's and producing/presenting Talking Queensland is something that he welcomes. He enjoys meeting interesting people and helping them to share their story.

Want to know what is happening in Rural Queensland, then this is the show to do just that. Stories from within and outside of Queensland, plus a great mix of 70s and 80s music. Sunday Night just got interesting.
