EAI Endorsed Transactions

The EAI Endorsed Transactions are peer-reviewed research journals covering the latest specialist topics in ICT and related fields. Supported by a network of editorial boards drawn from leading experts in their field and equipped with innovative online tools, EAI Endorsed Transactions are paving the way to the digital future of publication.

Benefits of the EAI Endorsed Transactions

Fast online publication

- Speedy, effective review with the e-Scripts online submissions management system.
- No waiting for the print schedule – your article gets published with full citation information in the European Union Digital Library as soon as the final is approved.
- The use of Inno-rank, guarantees you get professional reviewers and Inno-match allows you to connect with the EAI Community.

Open Access

- Open Access is a new publishing model where the electronic copy of the article is made freely available in the European Union Digital Library with permission for sharing and redistribution. All articles published in all journals in the EAI Endorsed Transactions series are Open Access under the terms of the Creative Commons with Attribution license.
- Open Access articles are known to enjoy a citation and dissemination advantage over other forms of research publication.
- No longer is there a need to ask permission to reuse text or figures from your own publications!
- Open Access does not require authors to transfer copyright to the publisher, thus it is compatible with the novel publication policies of universities such as Princeton forbidding copyright transfer (read more).
